- 25X1X6
- 18 January
- On 17 January, the Nationalist New 30 Division retook Ku-shih-ho (126-04, 44-13) and Cheng-tzu-chieh (126-01, 44-22) against light resistance.
(Shanghai Note: These towns were captured by the Communists on 13 January. The Northeast China Command believes that the Communists are withdrawing from the area.)
 - On 17 January, the Nationalist 91 Division was at Kung-chu-ling (124-50, 43-32) awaiting developments on the Mao-lin (123-26, 43-59) front.
 - There are 1000 Communists moving south from Pa-chi-lei (Hsiang-yang-pao) (124-50, 44-20).
A heavy Communist concentration has been reported at the Mao-lin front by the Nationalist 87 Division.
- 19 January
- On 18 January, the Nationalists were advancing cautiously north of Chiu-tai (125-50, 44-08). The 91 Division remains at Kung-chu-ling.
 - On 17 January, the 64 and 66 Regiments of New 22 Division arrived at Huan-jen (125-21, 41-16). The entire New 22 Division will soon assemble at Ying-pan (124-14, 41-55) to serve again as a central reserve.
 - A heavy concentration of Communists has been reported in the hills east of Cheng-tzu-chieh (126-01, 44-22).
 - The Communist 6 Division is at Fu-lung-chuan (124-57, 44-23).
